New Urban Agenda & 2030 AGENDA

The NUA is an action-oriented blueprint for global standards of achievement in sustainable urban development, which relates directly to SDG11- making cities inclusive, safe, resilient and sustainable, and further impacts other goals on the 2030 Agenda.

“The New Urban Agenda (NUA) resonates with the 2030 Agenda, whose SDGs (particularly SDG-11) contain indicators against which the NUA can be measured. Conversely, the NUA broadly outlines more of the means of implementation for cities, critical for the achievement of SDG-11 and beyond.”

1. Establish the DIAUD Network as a coordinated, cooperative network capable of effectively engaging diverse communities and across different scales of urban governance.
2. Improve mechanisms to collect and disseminate knowledge on inclusive urban development among network partners.
3. Establish a network platform for reporting on the implementation of the New Urban Agenda.
4. Ensure disability is explicitly referenced and operationalized in post-Habitat III implementation frameworks.
5. Ensure youth with disabilities participate in global urban development processes.
6. Raise awareness of universal design, accessibility and global standards on inclusive and accessible urban development among member states and implementing partners of the New Urban Agenda.

1. Establish the DIAUD Network as a coordinated, cooperative network capable of effectively engaging diverse communities and across different scales of urban governance.

Activity 1:	Establish and grow an adaptable and highly responsive global network of 100-200 individuals and organizations by identifying a diverse cadre of professionals with disabilities and allies (such as urban planners, architects, designers, policymakers, academics, etc.) working in local, regional and international organizations.
Activity 2:	Strengthen collaboration across sectors and scales by facilitating monthly online meetings and providing administrative and coordinating support.
Activity 3:	Develop and strengthen partnerships through memoranda of understanding (MOU) with leading regional and global networks such as the General Assembly of Partners, World Bank, and UN Habitat.
Activity 4:	Leverage institutional and operational capacity of partners and cross-cutting taskforces to coordinate activities that implement CRPD Article 9, SDG#11, and New Urban Agenda.

2. Improve mechanisms to collect and disseminate knowledge on inclusive urban development among network partners.

Activity 1:	Collect, share, and amplify innovative training and research initiatives taking place at regional level to further resilient, accessible, and disability-inclusive urban development.
Activity 2:	Establish an online “learning community” for network partners from different regions around the world to share resources and best practices on efforts that link New Urban Agenda, CRPD, SDG #11.
Activity 3:	Disseminate practical knowledge through various communication channels (e.g., Twitter, newsletters, etc.) to influence external stakeholders during, before, and after the network’s active participation in strategic conferences/meetings on urban development.

3. Establish a network platform for reporting on the implementation of the New Urban Agenda.

Activity 1:	Develop implementation of an action framework and a monitoring/evaluation framework for efforts that cut across CRPD Article 9, SDG#11, and New Urban Agenda.
Activity 2:	Document, collect, and share concrete measures that promote accessible, inclusive, and disability-responsive urban development with partners quarterly.

4. Ensure disability is explicitly referenced and operationalized in post-Habitat III implementation frameworks.

Activity 1:	Develop and coordinate lobbying efforts with member states to ensure accessibility and mainstreaming of disability in urban development is aligned with the CRPD, the New Urban Agenda, and 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development.
Activity 2:	Support the operationalization of the New Urban Agenda with formalized calls for action at key global meetings to ensure people with disabilities are engaged and that the key principles of accessibility, universal design, and non-discrimination are promoted in inclusive and disability responsive urban policy, planning and design.
Activity 3:	Ensure accessibility in design and availability of new technologies (e.g., information and communication technologies (ICTs)) are specifically considered.

5. Ensure youth with disabilities participate in global urban development processes

Activity 1:	Engage diverse organizations run by youth with disabilities and provide an overview of the Habitat III process via webinars and in person participation at key global events (ensure young professionals are engaged in the DIAUD Network).
Activity 2:	Provide mentorship and training to Youth with Disabilities Caucus (10 youth total) via 10 online seminars and one in-person meeting.
Activity 3:	Link the Youth with Disabilities Caucus with other youth delegations participating in the global urban development.

6. Raise awareness of universal design, accessibility and global standards on inclusive and accessible urban development among member states and implementing partners of the New Urban Agenda

Activity 1:	Develop, compile, and share targeted resources, programs, case studies and activities quarterly (e.g., toolkits, workshop series, trainings, educational modules, public design or policy charrettes with youth, etc.) on inclusive urban development for member states and other key stakeholders implementing the New Urban Agenda.
Activity 2:	Conduct multimedia, context-specific communication campaigns around 3 key events to highlight the importance and interconnectedness of SDG#11, CRPD Article 9, and New Urban Agenda. Innovative campaigns using traditional and social media that will highlight discriminatory practices and global best practices that promote accessibility and universal design.
